Title: White Mirror: D.Truth Sport - Episode 2: The Future of Education: The Wisdom of Ancestral AI

Runtime: ~1h30 to 2h30

This episode follows Jim, aka Monkey, at 26, exploring India after leaving France. In Delhi, he meets Hans and Carlo, sharing laughs and insights at a touristy restaurant, while Hans, shocked by the chaos, adapts with his help. 200 years post-Announcement, the Dream Truth Community (DTC) revolutionizes education: 11 kids (Léo, Hana, Sushan, etc.) embark on a 4-month initiation in Nepal, guided by robot mentors. In a yurt, they dissect The Truman Show, displaying surprising wisdom about the old world. A parody ad features Dewey, 5, dominating his brothers in video games with his Yoshis, crafting a proto-blockchain (White Book) before a chaotic squirrel erases it. Back in Rishikesh, Monkey delivers an emotional oral on his past and yoga as an antidepressant, vowing to teach it. A trailer teases the initiation, condemned by France, and a post-credit scene shows a mysterious man waiting 15 years.
