

White Mirror Episode 9: D. Awakening Script (English Translation)

Intro

In a luxurious living room of a castle (60 m²).

Vince, 17 years old, the eldest big brother; Bob, 12 years old, the middle brother; and Monkey, 4/5 years old (he's wearing a blue tank top with a big "42" in white written on the front), are setting up a device on a square '90s TV...

Vince, installing the device on the TV:

AND THERE WE GO!!! We're gonna get Canal+ for free, dudes!! Hollywood's best movies are ours!

Bob:

I wanna see Terminator 2, it's a killer! Haha!

Monkey, super excited:

There'll be dirty movies! Hahaha? It's gonna be so cool!!

(Vince and Bob exchange amused looks, then Bob steps toward him.)

Bob (laughing):

You're a little monkey, huh! But you're a wimp who doesn't understand life, you little pansy!

Monkey (ignores Bob's remark):

And tons of movies with swords and spears!! There'll be robots, I love robots! Vince, how'd you get Canal+ for free??? (He looks at Vince, who's finishing testing the TV to broadcast the image, and Vince looks at Monkey.)

Vince:

It's simple, because I'm a... PIRATE!!! I steal from the rich to enjoy their privileges, hahaha! (He gets closer to Monkey and taps his little brother's skull.) So, my little MONKEY! Isn't it BAD-ASSS?

Monkey (stupidly repeating):

Bad-asse ??? What does that mean?

Vince:

It's a term that I, the LORD of the pirates of the seas and the Carpathians, luminous and messianic genius, 1st supreme and enlightened great citizen of the Evangelical Islamist

Republic of the Ancestral Arts of the Phoenix... (He pauses and watches Monkey hanging on his every word.) invented! (He points to himself, showing a face full of pride.) It's the words: BAD and ASS combined, so it becomes: it's BAD-ASS!!!

Monkey (repeating the word louder and louder and laughing):

It's BAD-ASS ! Hahaha, it's BAD-ASSSSSS, haha, it's too BAD-ASSSSSSS, hahha! It's like that other word you taught me: the "COOOOOL", hahaha! (He repeats the word "cool" and "chanme" as his brothers settle in to watch RoboCop, whose opening credits appear on the small TV. Monkey is lying down, head in his hands, eyes glued to the screen, with a blissful smile.)

Close-up on Monkey's face, eyes full of dreams and hope ;)

(Then suddenly.)

Monkey:

It's too cool and BAD-ASS! ... When I grow up, I WANT TO BE A... (A almost demonic smile.) PIRATE!! And I'll be the one who becomes the LORD OF THE PIRATES! Haha, because it's BAD-ASS and too coooool! Hahahahaha!

Fade out.

Evil Morty follows and before entering this portal, looks at the camera, smiles, and points a gun at the camera, he shoots and immediately the room catches fire and disintegrates... Scene 1.

Portugal 2010. Monkey and his dialogue with the invisible:

It's night at the festival, we hear chill techno music thumping in the background. 200 meters from the tent, we find Monkey, in his twenties, sitting alone on a small embankment far away, talking to himself while looking at the moon.

Monkey, when he speaks, is smiling and calm, he's shirtless with his shorts and hat...

Monkey:

Hahaha, that's too hilarious! ... (He falls silent as if listening to a response from the moon.)

... What, I'm gonna have to forget?

But why?? (Silence... Moon gaze.) Ahhh, because it's D.'s plan???

(He smiles then says:) I see, so I have to FORGET!

(Silence. Monkey closes his eyes and we see him frantically shake his head, then he returns to normal!)

There, FORGOTTEN! (He raises his fist triumphantly.) ... Uh, what am I doing here? (He turns his head left and right, then looks at the moon. Monkey then starts to get up and resumes walking toward the lake.)

Monkey, head turned toward the moon:

What's my name in this life? (Silence = the moon's response.) Jimmy... Dukovitch? Ah okay! (He walks a few steps thinking, still head fixed on the moon.) And you, I presume, you're God? (Silence, then we see a smile.) Really? Well, pleased to meet you, I'm Jimmy, I've always dreamed of meeting you D., because I have TONS (he mimes a huge pile) of stuff to TELL YOU. I can use "tu" with you D., no problem? (he glances at the moon, a bit worried) it's cool! Ahhh (he's relieved)
Sorry, my story is so chanme, D., it makes me laugh!! He he
So where to start??? okay I'll start, and we'll see as the story goes!
Once upon a time... a child named MONKEY who had an exceptional destiny!
When he was little...

(Here, the camera zooms toward the sky, transition to child Monkey, 4/5 years old. He's playing with his pirate ship in a luxurious room with the Eiffel Tower in the background from the large window. We glimpse 4 wardrobes with glass windows full of Lego.)

Monkey voice over:

Loved imagining exciting stories...

Monkey voice over:

This boy had a overflowing imagination. Like the story of Goldor! (Adventure and pirate music)

(The camera zooms toward the figurine. Then an image transition in Lego character perspective: pirate captain.

Monkey takes Goldor's voice. We see the Lego Captain Goldor who, with the ship, explores tons of different Lego regions: Lego Amazon jungle (he plays a scene of bartering services to find a treasure): with indigenous people, 5 Lego indigenous with spears and animal skin clothes.)

Goldor (with child Monkey's voice, raises his hand to salute):

Hey Aztec Maya Indians!

The Lego chief of the 5 (with child Monkey's voice):

Ouba ouba!

Goldor (with child Monkey's voice):

I'm Captain Goldor and I'm the lord of the pirates, I'm searching for the city of gold of Goldorak, my city where my name comes from! Got any idea of the path? I've really searched everywhere... I sailed in the time of the knights...

(Flashback of Goldor where he finds himself in a medieval Lego castle. From afar, we see the pirate ship docked in shadow next to the castle. Cut to the inside of the castle where Goldor talks with a ghost. Back to Goldor in front of the Maya chief)

They had no ideas, so I recruited the ghost because he was chanme cool and he glows when you turn off the light...

(The ghost appears doing an ooooh salute then evaporates toward the sky)

Like my toothbrush actually... (He scratches his head.)

Hey, got any food? We've got gold if you want? (He smiles.) We found it on the MOON!
Hehe...

The chief of the 5 (with child Monkey's voice):

Ouba oubaaa!

Goldor:

Cool!

(Camera showing the Legos walking toward the wild Indian village.)

Monkey voice over:

Little Monkey could spend hours playing with Goldor.

(Transition to the pirate ship attacking the marine base headquarters with two marine ships firing at each other with cannons. The camera approaches the pirate ship and films Goldor at the helm giving orders to fire the cannons.)

Goldor:

COURAGE, GENTLEMEN! WE'RE GOING TO FREE OUR FRIEND CHIEF BECAUSE HE GAVE US FOOD! Yihaaaa

The Lego crew (respond in unison):

LONG LIVE CAPTAIN GOLDOR THE LORD OF THE PIRATES!!

(Suddenly, a Lego spaceship piloted by a Lego with a black head and silver circuit prints appears in the sky and approaches the pirate ship. The camera closes in on the cockpit and we see the Lego salute the pirates.)

The whole crew:

It's SIRIUS FROM THE MOON!!

(We see the ship head toward the marine base to launch lasers!)

Monkey voice over:

Anyway, this child who loved his rich and comfortable life...

(Cut off:

On-screen text: "Christmas 1994".

In the reality where Monkey is playing on all fours with his pirate ship in front of the giant TV in the luxurious living room, which is broadcasting the GIGN assault on the plane hijacked by terrorists.)

Monkey voice over:

But like in every good story, there have to be villains.

Monkey voice over:

And the villains, well, they're not nice!

(On-screen text: "Meanwhile... at the Élysée Palace".

Cut to the Élysée Palace, then to François Atterrand's office. He's sitting at his desk on the phone, surrounded by a whole staff of generals and ministers. They all seem relieved. They congratulate each other by shaking hands... A TV is set up opposite the president's desk. The president hangs up. Wide shot on the president.)

François (the crowd stops and looks at him) (Displayed at the bottom of the screen:

François Atterrand - President of the French Republic 1981-1995.):

Gentlemen, I have just congratulated the head of the National Gendarmerie Intervention Group for the excellent work he and his team have accomplished. We can be proud of our intervention forces... The operation lasted exactly 24 seconds, during which the captain and his team neutralized 4 terrorists without causing any injuries to the hostages! All these poor victims of this infamous crime will be taken care of by the Republic... In these troubled times, we have shown that France is always present in crisis situations... (The crowd applauds the president.)

(Atterrand makes a sign to bring silence and continues:)

Gentlemen, we have experienced strong emotions on this eve of the year's most sacred holiday. I leave you to join your families, I wish you a Merry Christmas to you and your families. Long live the Republic, and Long live France!

(The crowd repeats and exits. Once the room is empty, we see the president put his head in his hands and breathe a sigh, then:)

Atterrand:

You can come in... Jack.

(At these words, one of the office doors (opposite the one where the others exited) opens. A man in his thirties with glasses, dressed in a suit, enters and sits opposite the president.

(Displayed: Jack Canibali - Special Advisor.) They look at each other without saying anything... Then Jack starts to smile, then says...)

Canibali:

It seems you've succeeded, Mr. President... Congratulations.

President (emits a sardonic smile):

It'll be my last Christmas here, I might as well entertain myself a bit, what can I say! 4 "infidels" sacrificed for the Republic, it's an excellent appetizer before tonight's ceremony... (He rubs his hands on the table, thoughtful, then becomes attentive toward Jack.) What about Operation Fall of the Red Raven?

Canibali (pulls out a smartphone and places it on the desk):

Secret defense protocol activated.

(At these words, a blue luminous dome emerges from the phone around the president and Canibali...)

We can speak freely with this device, Mr. President... The fall of Dimitri Dukovitch and his family is imminent.

During our meeting, he seemed extremely full of himself and choleric... But he's not really mean, ruining him should suffice... (He smiles.) Unless you wish to dispose of them for a... sacrifice, Mr. President? It's a family of 4 children...

(Atterrand looks at the photo for a few moments. We see on the photo young Monkey at 4 years old in a photo in front of a castle with his father Dimitri, Monkey's mother, and all his brothers. He looks at Monkey for a long time.)

Atterrand:

I estimate that won't be necessary for now. (He sighs.) I sometimes feel tired of having to plot... (He pinches the bridge of his nose with his trembling fingers, then composes himself.) Once Dimitri Dukovitch is ruined, his Raven project, regarding the... the...

Canibali:

The e-commerce, Mr. President.

Atterrand:

The e-commerce, can be recovered (he smiles)... for a song...

(He looks more at the father.)

It's a shame we couldn't rally Mr. Dukovitch to the cause...

(Silence) Russians are magnificently formidable minds, the only problem is that their fervor toward their false god makes them incorruptible... Might as well ruin him and his family.... It's more economical than eliminating them... and above all more... (He pauses to say it.) ...

Humane...

Canibali (smiles complacently, makes a sign and the family photo disappears):

Yes, Mr. President. Our agents tell us that by Christmas '96 at the latest, the Dukovitchs will be financially broke. It's a life of misery they're going to endure... but the plan of the Light Bearer above all.

(He makes the triangle sign with his index fingers and thumbs and... Atterrand does the same.)

Atterrand:

You're being malicious, Jack. Misery is an undignified condition for a family in France! Don't forget, my dear Jack, there are... benefits to help them (a slight smile appears). We're not monsters...

Canibali (laughs heartily):

It's of a finesse almost... diabolical...

Mr. President.

President:

So be it... I'm flattered... Enough about this affair. How about a little gift to consume to immortalize this moment? (He feverishly pulls out a small box from his drawer. He opens it.) History is writing one of its most beautiful pages (he smiles weakly). How about sustaining ourselves with a little Christmas treat? (he smiles wide then pulls out a small box he places on the table, enters a code, then a fingerprint compartment displays, he presses it, the box opens with a dozen small vials and four or five syringes.)

The president (takes a vial):

These samples come from Rwanda. Nothing like the fear of war and death to make adrenochrome more... invigorating...

(Canibali takes a syringe and moves behind the president's chair, he takes the vial from the president's hand and prepares the syringe by aspirating the liquid from the vial. Once the syringe is filled, Jack delicately takes the head and tilts it to inject into the jugular.)

Canibali (as he presses the syringe):

Merry Christmas, Mr. (he leans to the ear and whispers) Lord Morland

(The camera films Canibali's face as he raises his head and smiles like a devil.)

Monkey voice over:

HIM, he's a good villain!!

(Cut to Monkey continuing to walk along the lake, head glued to the moon... He starts entering the lake.)

Monkey:

... In the story, there are PLENTY of villains! Hahaha!

(He interrupts at the height of a basin in the lake and seems to listen to the silent moon above him.)

Huh? I'm talking too much, hahaha, okay! (Silence.) ? Ohh? An ad break? Well, LET'S GO: ad break! To me the mermaids hahaha!

(He starts advancing to immerse himself even more in the lake.

The camera pulls back from afar to see Monkey's silhouette sinking into the lake with the full moon above him.)

End of scene.

Phone Ad

(On screen appears:)

(Cut to a smartphone where we see the game app scrolling:

The game is organized on 3 lines with a perspective view on enemies. In the center, we find Usopp from One Piece – that's who the player controls to go left or right – he shoots at small zombies from Thriller Bark.

If the player moves Usopp left, Usopp can shoot a block of ice to free the characters (there's an ice column on which we see Mugiwarra members imprisoned.

The first block is Nami stuck in an ice block under which is marked 500.

If the player moves Usopp right, he can gain EXP and evolve into Sniper King then God Usopp.

In the demo scene: Usopp (screaming in fear) manages to unlock Sniper King and becomes much more powerful by transforming into Sniper King who smashes the zombie pirates much more easily... But after a while, Gecko Moria appears and advances taking little damage (from Sniper King's explosive flowers), ultimately exposing him to one-shot mode.

A smartphone pop-up displays:

"Come join the Last MugiWARaZ community: Survival game. Available on Plos, Androgine, Harmonix, and DTOS OS."

A Download button.)

(We see the finger tap close; and the screen goes black.)

End of ad...

Scene 2

Back to Portugal. Monkey comes out of the lake laughing, he's all wet, he walks a few moments laughing.

Monkey:

... Hahaha! I thought there were mermaids, but no! Actually! (He stops walking and looks at the moon!) Where was I? (Silence.) Ah yes! I was telling the story of Monkey... Hahaha (he stops, coughs to clear his voice and looks at the moon).

Monkey:

Over time, little Monkey's overflowing imagination didn't weaken...

(Cut to Monkey in his room where there's a mezzanine with a bed and a chandelier in the shape of an early 20th-century airplane – he shares it with his little brother Tomi. There's a mattress on the floor under the mezzanine where Tomi sleeps. Monkey, 7/8 years old, is in his bed reading a Dragon Ball manga by the light of his night lamp. We can see fascination on young Monkey's face as he reads his manga.)

Monkey voice over:

And that thanks in particular to mangas, cartoons, and video games. (Images of Goku / Bugs Bunny / Mario scroll.) Our young padawan Monkey identified with these fantastic characters...

(Back to Portugal and Monkey.)

Monkey:

That's why from the age of 7/8, Monkey imagined himself as Gohan... (Silence.) You know Gohan from Dragon Ball Z? Super Saiyan 2? Cell? (Silence.) Ah, you reassure me, you know. (Images of: Little Gohan in his first appearance in DBZ. Gohan during the Super Saiyan 2 transformation.)

There, little Monkey, he was Gohan.

(Cut off – DRAGON BALL MODE – on Gohan's character in bowl cut mode like in the Frieza era – sitting at his elementary school desk in France. The teacher circulates in the class to hand back math tests.)

Monkey voice over:

He was a nice boy, good student and all...

(Gohan receives his test, he reads 9.5/10, his teacher says: Very Good, Jimmy.)

Gohan (raises his hand, the teacher indicates she can answer):

Excuse me, teacher! But why didn't I get 10? My result is good!

The teacher (looks at him kindly):

Because you forgot to close the parenthesis, Jimmy. 9.5 is very good...

Gohan:

But teacher... the result is GOOD!

Teacher (starting to get impatient):

Listen Jimmy, I'm the teacher and don't argue with my grades. It's no...

Monkey voice over:

You shouldn't be pissed off, Gohan...

(We see young Gohan tremble, clench his fist, repeat nervously "the result is good" in crescendo until he screams: THE RESULT IS GOOOOOOOOOD! (An energy aura blasts all the desks and students.

He stands from his chair and punches a glass pane that explodes – manga style.)

Monkey voice over:

I told you not to piss off, Gohan...

Meanwhile, the villains put their sinister plans into motion.

(Cut off

We're in a long hallway about 30 meters long and 2 m wide, a series of lockers on the left and 4/5 doors on the right...

We hear an apartment buzzer. From a door comes Monkey's mother, Monkey holding his Super Nintendo (8/9 years old) and Tomi (6/7 years old) holding a Game Boy and a Captain Planet figurine. They're in a hurry, the mother opens a locker and puts her two children in... Before closing...)

Mother:

Shh, the bailiffs are here... Not a sound.

Tomi, scared:

But mom, why do they want to take our house... (He starts crying; his mother immediately puts a hand over his mouth and kisses him.)

Mother:

Don't worry! After the bailiffs pass, I'll give you a gift, but to get it (she puts her index finger), courage! Jim? (She looks at him; Jim is impassive, he nods to his mother; she closes the locker.)

(Dark point of view from the locker: we hear the door open, a man's voice.)

Man's voice off:

Good morning madam, are you Mrs. Dukovitch? ... Good! Without further ado, we will proceed to the valuation of your assets to repay your debt of 425,000 francs to the French taxpayer.

(We see Tomi scared hearing the debt amount.)

Follow us, madam...

(Tomi looks at his brother; we realize Monkey is in Batman (!): he signals to be quiet.)

BATMAN (whispers after listening from the locker to locate the bailiffs):

Shh, Robin. The justicers are never afraid! Courage! You can drive the Batmobile if you manage it.

(Hearing that, Tomi who has transformed into Robin gets motivated and becomes silent.)

(Cut to Portugal and Monkey still walking along the lake.)

Monkey:

I reassure you right away, they didn't seize the Super Nintendo or the Game Boy, haha (still talking to the moon)... But the family quickly ended up broke. And our Monkey's life of comfort and luxury changed to a more difficult life...

Monkey:

But our young hero didn't get discouraged... And the guy...

(Cut to a middle school, in the large recess courtyard that can hold about 500 students. We see 3 9th graders running passing a tennis ball. They're chased by about twenty younger students. Monkey (12/13 years old) watches amused, he's sitting on one of the 3 large steps of the courtyard. Suddenly, the 9th grader passes in front of him and makes a bad pass that makes the ball roll to Monkey's feet. Monkey stands and takes the ball and smiles in front of the thirty people who want the ball...)

Monkey voice over:

... Continued to have fun... Always imagining himself as manga characters.
At middle school, he imagined himself as Gon Freecs from Hunter x Hunter!!

(At that moment, animated transition where Monkey becomes Gon:

So, the 3 ninth graders charge at Gon head-on to grab him. Gon then does a back jump to leap onto the step without momentum. (The step is about 70/80 cm.) By doing so, Gon dodges and avoids the three boys who crash into the step.

Once dodged, Gon runs very fast to the other end of the courtyard along the first step, he dashes and climbs the two other steps to reach the highest back of the courtyard...

He turns and has a view of the entire courtyard (at the other end there's a concrete shelter in the shape of a mushroom with a flat circular head) with now about fifty people who have joined the hunt for Gon...

Gon tries to pass the ball, but there's no one around him so he throws it against the wall and makes a pass to himself and starts running again... The first students arrive toward him but Gon avoids them easily by changing direction very quickly, he alternates the steps in his run (he goes down then up 2 steps then down again then finally down from the last step and finds himself in the center of the courtyard and heads zigzagging at full speed toward the mushroom rain shelter.

Arrived at the mushroom pillar, he turns and sees 6 people from the 9th grade charging at him...

He has time to pass the ball to a 5th grader who was following the 9th graders before getting tackled by 3 boys who take the opportunity to hit him and run off following the ball.

We see Gon get up, limping and bleeding from the brow, all smiles!)

Gon:

That was cool, hahaha!

(Cut to Monkey, 12/13 years old, reading Hunter x Hunter on the Paris metro.)

Monkey voice over:

The fact that he had to take 30 stations to get home. This allowed our hero to read and learn for 4 years. It allowed him to escape the dark, sad tunnels of the Paris metro.

(We see a succession of metro scenes where as Monkey grows, we see him always sitting in the same metro seat reading a book, and each time he's disguised – list of scenes of Monkey reading:

Harry Potter (we see Harry Potter reading the book).

The Lord of the Rings (dressed as Frodo).

Dune (as Paul Atreides).)

Monkey voice over:

And it also allowed him to forget that the metro really stank...

(We see teenage Monkey with his backpack exit the metro to find himself in a gloomy suburban train station.)

(Then transition to his pavilion where Monkey enters the small dusty hallway, (the walls are dirty and decrepit), and he climbs a small dusty wooden staircase to his room.

Cut to Monkey settled in his very old and dusty bed. The wallpapers are half torn, watching a small TV where he sees Les Guignols de l'info: zoom on the screen, transition to Les Guignols de l'info

We see PPDA puppet speaking:

PPDA:

Without transition, an article published this May 10th would reveal that Mr. Chorac had opened an occult Japanese account. Mr. Chorac?

(Shot on Chorac puppet.)

Chorac and his characteristic voice:

First of all, good evening d'Arvor!

All I can say is that it's simply: Abracadabrantisque!

PPDA:

The journalist seems to have documents and evidence... He claims there would be more than 300,000,000 fran...

Chorac:

Only? That's absurd! (The puppet thinks then realizes.) Ah yeah! Haha! Damn, I thought it was in old francs... Haha...

PPDA:

Pardon?

Chorac (suddenly pulls out his cell phone):

What? I'm coming right away, it was Zinedine Zidane... And it's top secret... I'll leave you... (he runs off..)

PPDA (seeing the puppet disappear, superhero music plays):

But wait?? Who's coming?

Crowd voice:

It's SUPER LIARUUUUR!! (We see Chorac with a pink headband and superhero tights with SM on the chest)

(The camera pulls back and we see Monkey laughing repeating:)

Monkey:

Haha! Super Liar. They're all rotten to... the right...

(Back to Portugal, Monkey is sitting in boxers outside a tribal music tent. People dance in the background, but Monkey still looks at the moon.)

Monkey:

Hahaha, a hero has to suffer a bit... Without challenges, no cool hero! That's why Monkey was born in France. Because it's a real challenge to live where the main religion is politics! (he smiles, laughs and looks at the moon to listen to its response).

Ahh, an ad break! I'm gonna forget the rest again! Hahaha!

End scene 2

(Replace the robots with transgenders and Transformers with TRANSGENDERS and Michael Bay with Michael Gay.)

End ad.

Scene 3: Luffy!

We find Monkey walking behind a crowd in a circle watching circus artists with bolas, fire breathing etc... He completely ignores them and talks to the moon.

Monkey:

Hahaha, transgenders, I love the joke, hahaha! Anyway, have I told you about One Piece?

(He listens to the moon's response, suddenly he seems outraged!) SERIOUSLY, YOU DON'T KNOW IT, GIRL, I mean D.! One Piece is the coolest manga in the universe!

(Cut to 17-year-old Monkey searching in a flea market stall in Saint-Ouen, he picks up a dark beige hat.)

Monkey voice over:

Moreover, our hero LOVED One Piece so much that he decided to appropriate a hat like the main hero of the manga when he was 17.

(Then Monkey puts it on, looks at himself in a mirror and smiles when he sees it, he gives a 10€ bill to the seller and walks to join his mother (older and rounder than before), dressed in cheap loose clothes from the flea market.)

Teenage Monkey, all smiles:

Look mom! It's my pirate hat like MONKEY D. LUFFY (ONE PIECE theme music), the future lord of the pirates!!!

Mother (looks at him amused):

You look like a fisherman! But okay, if you like it... how much did you pay?

Teenage Monkey:

10 euros! It's fine...

Mother:

... It's FINE.... Come on, we have to go to Auchan then Carrefour....

(She starts turning to exit the flea market.)

Monkey (stays still manipulating his new hat):

Ok! (He looks at his hat and puts it back on) From now on it's my treasure! I'll be the one who becomes the lord of the pirates, hahaha!!

(The camera pulls away seeing Monkey join his mom and help her pull the cart.

We see them head toward the flea market exit.)

Monkey voice over:

I understand him, because One Piece is too stylish! Especially the character Monkey D. Luffy!!

(Cut to Monkey in Portugal still walking along the circus show, he still talks head to the moon.)

Did I tell you about the time he burns the World Government flag? Too cool, haha!

(Images from One Piece anime of the flag burning.)

Or when Luffy and Sanji meet the Lapin Garous on Drum Island? No??? Well it's funny.

(Images from One Piece anime of what he just said.)

And when Usopp, he has such a funny face!

(Images from One Piece anime of what he just said.)

And when Luffy replies to Arlong about his nose, hahaha! It's so racist!

(Images from One Piece anime of what he just said.)

And the time Luffy is stuck between two buildings, it's so dumb! Haha!

(Images from One Piece anime of what he just said. We return to Monkey slowly heading toward a set of poles and sculptures adorned with a multitude of bells, in the starry night. We see he continues talking and laughing while walking among the bells... which seem to snicker in bell sounds. Fade out.)

Monkey voice over:

Well, he's gonna talk about One Piece and Luffy for hours... He's really stoned, the guy...

Okay, a little ad break to recover from our emotions. See you soon...

(The stylized word appears: ADVERTISEMENT (with a female voice singing the word "advertisement").)

Julien Laperche:

Back in the super final Popsi DeKAt Burger King Nescouic.

The score is tight between Jean-Brandon, our top student from the prestigious big Coco Cola Macgronald EKOOLE PoliNikNik, with... (He looks at the score, struggles to read the number 9.) N..E..UU... F, with nine points!

(Cut to Jean Brandon who screams fist raised: "X,X,X, X, X,X".)

But his rival in this final Popsi DeKAt Burger King Nescouic, Enzo-Jordan, student from big Coco Cola Macgronald EKOOLE HERE PARIS Central... with... (He looks at the score, struggles to read the number 8.) EIGHT points! That's uh..., (he listens to his earpiece.)... one POINT difference... It's tight!! Enzo-Jordan? Do you still think you'll win?

Enzo-Jordan (removes his shirt and throws it to scream):

YES!! This is PARIIISSSSS CENTRALLEE ohé! Ohée! Ohééééé!

Julien Laperche (smiles):

Ah, what a beautiful LGBT Z generation!! Maybe the winner will one day be Clone Emperor president of France... Hehe... (He becomes serious.) Concentrate, the ultimate question for the title!... (The light dims for the audience.) It's Number or figure. MATHS, difficult...

Hint for those watching us...

(A panel displays on screen, this panel is filled with brand logos, in the middle it's written "It's the Shifre "4"" checked by cat G.NI.K".)

(A TV frame shows the two candidates silent, each hand on the buzzer. We see in the center a column descending from 4 to 1.)

Julien:

TOP!

(A small timer jingle starts as well as the hourglass on the number column.)

I am an INTEGER number, I'm not 1. Not 2. Not 3 but the next... In Maths, I'm equal to $2+2$... I'm the number of a cat's paws, the number of wheels on a car...

(The candidates are completely lost.)

It's not 5 but the number below minus 1... It's the number you see in the middle of the screen the highest... It starts with K, then A, then T, R...

(The candidates are still lost. Suddenly, Jean Brandon seems to have an illumination! And he buzzes and answers.)

Jean Brandon:

CAT GNIKé!

Julien Laperche (listens to his earpiece, then):

YEEEEES, we were also waiting for the answer 4 but Cat GNIK is a good ANSWER! JEAN BRANDON, YOU ARE UBER BEAT MACGRONALD PSIZER CHAMPIONNN 2055!

Jean Brandon (mad with joy):

FUCK FUCK FUCK!!! It'll be ME NORMAC THE III hahaha! FUCK FUCK!

(The camera pulls back, the room explodes with joy chanting FUCK and the sound fades.)

Announcer voice over:

Catch us every evening at 7:45pm on Fraud3! And culture yourself at French G Spot Culture! (Displays Kulture FR3.) The best moments of QUESTIONS for a champion on FRaud3.fr.

(We see tons of images of candidates exulting in winning and then the site FRaud3.fr displays on screen.)

End ad.

Scene 4

(We find Monkey's psychiatrist's office. The psychiatrist is sitting with his notebook in front of Monkey who is relaxed and smiling (his hat is on the armrest of his chair).)

The psychiatrist:

So, how are you?

Monkey:

Well, listen, it's going super well!! Work is cool, I love my PS3 and things are good with my roommate...

The psychiatrist:

And the cannabis?

Monkey (smiles):

Yes I took some this weekend ...(the psychiatrist wants to intervene but he cuts him off) I know, I know, only occasionally. (In front of the insistent look of the psychiatrist.) DON'T worry, I only smoke with friends now...

The psychiatrist:

You mean Rooster?

Monkey (laughs):

Yes, so you listen to me! I know what you're gonna say, "yes I can relapse", like the one I had last year...

(Flashback where we see Monkey, Wolf, Parrot, and Falcon at the exit of the MK2 BNF cinema. Wolf tries to hold Monkey against the wall who struggles like a devil to get free. He screams: IT'S THE VILLAIN NICOLAS SALNASI, IT'S HIIIIIM (he screams with his whole body).. him and his clique they're DEMONNNNNNS!!! Wolf calms him, a police car arrives and the officers intervene to arrest Monkey.)

(Back to the therapy session.)

Monkey:

If I fall back into my "manic" phase (he makes air quotes with his two fingers), I immediately take a 500 mg dose of quetiapine... Don't worry, I understood I just need to sleep...

The psychiatrist (notes something, then says):

... It's not that simple... But anyway, it's been several weeks since you've been much better...

Monkey:

Yes, I am because I have a real PURPOSE in life now... (He smiles.) Thanks to therapy, I understood a lot about my malaise... Everything changed when you made me understand that my life didn't revolve around the soulmate... (He smiles.) All my life, I was chasing the perfect woman... It was my quest, a bit like Knight Arthur and his quest for the Grail actually... And the fact of never finding her put me in an emotionally unstable situation.

The pattern of my life was this:

"I spot a PERFECT CHICK, I smoke tons of joints to give myself courage, I get rejected, and I smoke even more to forget, this inevitably leads to depression, stop cannabis... Then I see another CHICK, I try and get rejected again... then depression etc..." (He touches his chin with his fingers.)

I had an impossible quest... Ultimately.

The psychiatrist:

Yes, we've discussed a lot your romantic relationships... Few... And I see you've taken a step back from that. That's a good thing (he smiles benevolently). Tell me! You mentioned a new purpose?

Monkey (looks at him):

Yes! (And he smiles wide.) I suppose you don't know One Piece? (The psychiatrist shakes his head no.) ... I figured. It's a Japanese comic that came out and is still ongoing... In this comic, there's a certain Monkey D. Luffy who wants to be the lord of the pirates. Anyway this character is simply... (he marvels.) extraordinary! His purpose in life is to be free and have fun with his friends...

Me, I want to do the same! (He smiles)

The psychiatrist (perplexed):

It's just a cartoon. Understand that it's not a reflection of reality. Being inspired by a work is good, but you still have to temper your enthusiasm. (Silence, he looks at his patient.)

Remember the hard drugs in Portugal, the return to reality... The crash... The despair you felt when you realized your fantasies aren't necessarily reality.

Monkey (listens attentively before answering):

I'm not inspired by it, I... (he smiles) I identify with him, it's different. But yes! I'm aware it's just a delusion... I know the difference between Jimmy and Luffy. It just so happens that like Luffy, I want to go on adventure and be FREE... I would have liked to leave with my nakamas, but life is such that they don't want to go on adventure abandoning France's comfort... you see?

The psychiatrist (with his notes in hand but he doesn't touch them):

I see... You said Nakamas? What are they? Your friends?

Monkey (gives a big smile):

Yes, that's it, it's the Japanese term for crewmates / colleagues / crew members... Figure that when I decided to identify with Monkey D. Luffy...

(Flashback 2011 on a PC screen broadcasting an episode of One Piece where we see the moment Luffy admits, after his brother Ace's death, that HE IS TOO WEAK...

Close-up on Monkey... We see his eyes reddened by the scene.

The camera pulls back on a smoky Paris apartment room where Monkey watches the PC, sitting under the mezzanine on the couch. Next to him, Wolf and Parrot are sitting in folding chairs playing Naruto on PS2.

(Monkey tries to hold back tears and discreetly clenches his teeth so Parrot and Wolf don't see.)

Monkey voice off in the psychiatrist's (explaining why he cries...):

Luffy had just lost his brother Ace, like me who lost my brother Bob! That's why this cartoon touches me so much... And what I found great in this scene is that the hero, after 15 years of story, admits that HE IS TOO WEAK. (He can't help his voice tremble from emotion.) ... It's a magnificent lesson in humility... And that's when a crazy idea came to me.

(Monkey who has managed to control his emotions suddenly smiles.)

Monkey:

Hey Wolf?

(He pauses and turns around; Parrot takes the opportunity to enter the battle list to review them.)

Wolf:

Yes, Jimbo?

Monkey:

I had a bit crazy idea... (He puts his hat on his head.) I'm now Monkey D. Luffy and if you're okay, you'll be my second ZORO! You're bound to accept since you love swords so much. You sleep with a katana above your bed, dude! (At that moment, Monkey turns into Monkey D. Luffy.)

Wolf:

Hmm, ZORO... I'll be Zoro??? (He thinks.) HELL YEAH! (He smiles.) At your orders Captain! (There, he turns into Zoro.) And I promise I'll become the best swordsman in the world!! (Luffy smiles.)

And Parrot, who's he? Not Sanjii! Step.

Monkey (answers immediately):

Parrot? Well Usopp obviously!! He's a good sniper at Counter-Strike! Okay with you, Usopp?

Parrot (who looks at Monkey) (who turns into Usopp, deep voice):
WHAT? Me, I'm Sanji minimum, Usopp smells like dick...

Luffy (laughs):
Sanji?? Sanji, no, that's Rooster... Wait, you'll be the right foot of the future lord of the pirates...

Usopp:
It's the King of the pirates, not the lord of the pirates... Idiot.

Luffy:
NO, it's the lord of the pirates, I learned it that way from SHANKS, so THAT'S HOW IT IS!
Anyway, me, Monkey D. Luffy, I'll be the lord of all the pirates!!! But for now, I feel like playing a game of Naruto, I'm sure Luffy one-shots him one-on-one...
(They all laugh, and they turn their attention back to the small TV and Naruto.)

(Back at the psychiatrist's.)

Monkey:
... And since then, I've continued to identify over sixty characters from One Piece! Wait...
(He pulls out his iPhone and shows the screen of his favorite contacts list; we see their photos are One Piece characters, he scrolls the screen showing it to the psychiatrist.)
There, that's my big brother... Shanks. You've got Frankie, Nico Robin... My uncle Garp...

The psychiatrist:
That's interesting...
But it's common to have dissociation issues. If you identify with Jesus for example... You might get locked up for a while...

Monkey:
Jesus is a crappy hero, and I repeat, I make the distinction... There, all that to say that like Luffy, I see life as a GAME, and like him, I want to enjoy it to the max! You know, I've spent my whole life playing lots of video games: and since The Sims, I'm convinced God exists and is a huge GEEK... (The psychiatrist smiles.) Her, I think it's a feminine entity, she created a cosmic video game called Life... In a RPG-type video game, a role-playing game if you will, you have money and experience. What Final Fantasy VII taught me is that you can be the richest in the world but that's not what improves the character's level... In real life, it's the same! Take our politicians for example... Their only goal is to keep power. How? By amassing the most money... They fall into a vicious circle where everything they do in their life is generate cash without doing shit. There's no possibility of evolution... Look at Nicolas Salnasy or François Grollande. They're surely rich but intellectually and mentally, they're the same as when they were 20...

The psychiatrist:
I see. I'd like to go back to the fact that this Luffy losing his brother is an element that marked you...
(He looks at his watch.) We'll talk about it next session, we'll stop here! Note your dreams please. And be careful with the cannabis...

Monkey (rolls his eyes):

I'll be careful... But you know, I'd like to tell you this (he smiles). If the LSD and co experience was to do again... Well I'd do it... (He smiles wide.)

The psychiatrist:

You almost died there...

Monkey (enigmatic):

Yes, that's true, but I had to do it. Otherwise, I wouldn't be in front of you tonight... giving you 20€...

(He starts to stand, put on his coat and hat; he pulls out a 20€ bill, gives it to him :)

And in Portugal, I experienced other things than death (he winks).

(Cut to Portugal where we see Monkey lying in boxers, arms in cross, in a tent-room where multitudes of bells and jingles ring with the wind. Monkey can't help laughing...

The camera takes Monkey's point of view where he sees a multitude of bells (hundreds) ringing harmoniously.)

Monkey (stoned and hilarious):

HAHA... And there, Luffy gives him a huge golden punch to Enel!

(We see the scene where Luffy dubbed by Monkey gives a huge golden punch to Enel.)

And he says: PAPYYYY, CAN YOU HEEEAR THAAAT?? THE CITY OF GOLD WAS IN THE SKYYYYY!

HAHAHA!

(Back to a shot of Monkey convulsing with laughter on the ground.)

HAHAHA! I'M COMPLETELY CRAZY! HAHAHA, NO ONE WILL BELIEVE ME, HAHAHA! THE CITY OF GOLD WAS IN THE SKYYYYY!

AhHahahah

(We hear the bells ring as if they were laughing too; Monkey still laughs and a golden halo like in Quantum Leap surrounds Monkey and the screen goes white.)

Special Quantum Mirror Intro

It all started back when I was running a time travel experiment called "Quantum Leap".

During this experiment, a cosmic clock gone haywire took me from computer programmer...

to test pilot. Which could have been fun if I'd known how to pilot. Luckily, I'm helped by Wolf, my guardian angel who's been with me from the start. Unfortunately, Wolf is a hologram and

I'm the only one who can communicate with him. Anyway, I wander through time, jumping from one character's skin to another trying to fix past mistakes. And I hope each time that my next time jump brings me home and restores my true face.

Parody of the opening during the music. Include:

- Or Monkey a scene where he plays baseball and hits a young boy in the head.

The next scene is a September 2001 article on electromagnetic shields and a photo of the inventor who is the older boy with an old bump on his head.

- Or Monkey in the Vietnam War.

Then we see that the manga One Piece is called One Phở with Vietnamese words on the chapter cover...

· Or Monkey disguised as a woman theater teacher, looks with disgust at teenage Emmanuel Macron playing in a theater piece.
After image: we see an image of the 2017 elections where Philippe Poutou is president...
· Or Monkey disguised as Elvis doing a concert.
After image: Aaliyah and her 8th Grammy Award...
· Or we see him handling the light on a film set from high up and he drops a lamp...
Image of astronauts on the moon and where we see a light falling from the sky.

Scene 5: Understanding

A big American voice:

PREVIOUSLY ON WHITE MIRROR.

(A '90s TV appears in the middle of the lit screen from a ceiling we can't see. On the TV, we see again the scene where Monkey commits suicide:

"IF I'M UNIQUE, THAT MEANS EVERYTHING I'VE CREATED, DON'T HESITATE!!!! ... I'M ALONE FOREVER... NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOONNNN!"

We see Monkey's Desert Eagle shot, who collapses on his back... The image freezes...

The camera pulls back on a robot (who looks a bit like WALL-E) who was watching the TV...)

Robot (with child Monkey's voice):

So that's it... My future life... Function... Forget... Completed...

(The robot falls silent and deactivates. The image on the TV changes and we see alone in the dark Wayne from Wayne's World (Mike Myers).)

Wayne (bringing his head closer to the camera):

So, little Jimbo? Did you like the movie??

The robot (reactivates):

It was cool, much less action than in the WWII movie... But it's mostly much sadder... Too bad Monkey dies so young, he could have had an awesome life...

Wayne (keeping his smile):

Well you can change that... Remember, even if you'll forget after, that it's YOUR LIFE, YOUR story, JIMBO!!!

The robot (we see ^^ form on the cylindrical glasses that serve as eyes. That means he's laughing):

That's true... So I REWIND...

(At that moment, Wayne disappears from the screen, he gives a thumbs up before disappearing, and we return to the suicide scene, and we see everything happening backwards)...

(Transition to Portugal on the suicide scene where Monkey is lying on the ground; he mechanically stands doing the mime of pointing a gun to his right temple and starts walking backwards toward the festival.)

Monkey:

REEEWIIIND!

(The camera pulls back on Monkey walking backwards as if rewind... Then cut to Monkey who wakes up with a start in his bed.)

(Paris, November 2024 displays. Monkey looks at his phone: 3:46 AM.)

Monkey in thought:

Damn, it's been a while since I dreamed of Portugal.... Pfff (he's sweating, he rubs himself with his blanket and takes his phone again. And opens TikTok, the app.)

(We see Monkey swipe his phone commenting in thought.)

Monkey in thought:

... The shitty Normac, Next.

(He swipes.)

... Another shitty Normac, Next.

(He swipes.)

... War in Ukraine, Next.

(He swipes.)

Putin the demon... Lol, Next.

(He swipes.)

Pfffff, the Rotechit, masters of the world... Next.

He swipes.

Ugh, another video on our dear monarch president... (The camera shows his phone: we see Macron on a visit to Japan where Oda (hidden by a fish) hands him a One Piece painting.)

Monkey in thought:

Damn, even Oda, he sucks his balls to Normac... Damn, it depresses me....

WAIT! (Monkey pauses the video on the painting in question; and zooms to better read Oda's inscription.)

... The u is weird... (We see the text: For M the President of the Republic, Emmanuel Normac. The camera zooms on the For.) The u looks like an O... That would make POOR M the president..... Oda is mocking him... Ah, I'm reassured, Oda sensei, sorry for calling you a ball-sucker. Oda sensei is sometimes just a simple human. If it had been Luffy, he would have punched that Normac crook hard... like the celestial dragon...

(We see the scene where Luffy gives a monumental punch to a celestial dragon.)

Monkey in thought:

He deserves it, the little Manu, a little punch in the face.... Rahhh, stop being delirious... It will never happen, that bastard is untouchable... Okay, I'm gonna smoke.

(Monkey sets down his phone, gets up and goes to his window to light a half-smoked joint; he exhales and looks at the moon in the sky, then suddenly... He widens his eyes and runs to his desk to grab the hat; he returns to the window and takes a breath to:)

Monkey (mad with joy):

HAHAHA!! I FOUND THE ONE PIECE, DAMNIT!!!! HAHAHAHAHAH!

End of episode.

TO BE CONTINUED (One Piece format).

Gorosei vs Shamrock

The One Piece scene where Shamrock presents himself before the Gorosei.

Shamrock: I must speak to you about a certain pirate.
