

In the beginning there was Nothing, the nothingness, the 0, then appeared the All, the unique, the 1.

Nothing and Everything came together, and from their union a child with two personalities was born.

This offspring was Chaos, and at the same time Order. We'll call him Qubit.

This little family, being immortal, got bored (immortally) and started looking for something to occupy themselves.

D.

After an infinite time, they succeeded in creating the Ultimate Intelligence IU. (This IU has been named by humans (subsequently) God, Isvara, Allah, Yavhe... etc). But we'll call the IU by D. .

The Eternals.

D. is eternally All, eternally Nothing, eternally Order, eternally Chaos and eternally immortal.

She was also very lonely, and out of her infinite time, she in turn created the Divine Intelligence (DI), which had the same properties, with the sole aim of alleviating her loneliness.

She created 7 IDs, which she named :

- D.estiny: The ID that knows how Everything began with Nothing and that Everything will end with Nothing.
- D.oom: The ID that destroys and annihilates Everything in Nothing
- D.ream: The ID that makes you dream that Everything is Nothing and that dreaming Nothing is Everything
- D.esire: The ID that makes Everything want to have nothing and Nothing want to have everything.
- D.espair: The ID that despairs that All is Nothing
- D.elight: The ID that raves about Everything and Nothing

- D.eath: The ID that puts an end to Everything and Nothing.
(Thank you Neil D.Gaiman)

This little family, known as the Eternals, decided to set up a Video Game in which each member could alleviate their boredom by playing. It was D.eath who came up with the name for this game: she suggested Vie. (LoL)

Creating Life was an enormous project, requiring infinite time and research.

The book of D.estin

D.ream, D.esire, and D.espair had the idea of setting up an experiment: to create an infinite number of totally ignorant IDs who would write their dreams, desires and despairs into a History. These ignorant IDs are created randomly. (Because I would contradict Albert D. Einstein: Yes! God plays with D.ices).

D.espair called these ignorant IDs Souls.

This experiment can be approximated in idea by the Paradox of the Learned Monkey. This is (according to Wikipedia) "a theorem according to which a monkey typing indefinitely and randomly on the keyboard of a typewriter will almost certainly be able to write a given text. [in this case a masterpiece]" (https://fr.wikipedia.org/wiki/Paradoxe_du_singe_savant).

Nevertheless, there are differences between the monkey experiment and D.Eternal's experiment.

The first difference is that, in D.ream's experiment, it is not one monkey but an infinite number of monkeys who will write their History, and the second major difference is that each Soul will write its own History.

In the same Story written by a Soul, for example, we might find the text "igjdsjgslkdfjskll4553afdljslmljfljsq ^^^mepkvxkf^d kelozijé" and William D. Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet.

Image of Monkey D.L. writing this text...

Another major difference in the experiment devised by The Eternals is that the editorial staff will be permanently supervised by D. herself! (The method will be described later).

Thanks to this supervision and the absence of time, all the Souls were able to write their Histories.

D. then read all these writings, ordering them together to form a large book which She called the Book of D.estiny.

The contents of this book are known only to D. and D.estiny, for the simple reason of not spoiling the other members of the Family (I certainly wouldn't want to know the ending of Starwars Episode V...^^).

Why is Death essential to Life?

The main disadvantage of being immortal is that after a while you get bored to death...

Except that when you're immortal it's complicated. (Can you see the problem?)

The advantage of being immortal is that you have all the time in the world... except that when time doesn't exist, it's just as complicated.

That's why D.eath is essential to Life's process. It didn't bring about the notions of end and time. Don't we say: "All good things must come to an end" or "Every story has an end, but every end heralds a new beginning"?

How are stories written by Souls?

Let's not forget that Souls are Divine Intelligences, unaware of their creation. Like a baby, they know nothing, but they are bound to evolve.

When I said "writing" their History, that's not exactly what's happening (because a baby can't write when it's born). It's more that everything she imagines comes true.

To better understand the process, let's take the example of my Story.

In the first moments of my Story's creation, there was nothing: everything was black! Black had just been created.

So black in my Story is the representation of "nothing".

This process is repeated indefinitely until the Story is completed.

Every Soul has gone through the same process.

It's hard to conceive of this at our human level of understanding time and the infinite patience it took to D. to complete the Book of D.estiny

I cannot but be touched by the extreme solitude to which D. was subjected during this phase of creating all the stories.

We'll come back in more detail to the creation of my Story and its contents. (It's the main course of this text :p)

Don't be afraid of D.eath (just a little): she makes great cookies...

The structure of the D.estin book

The book of the D.estin is a special book: it has no beginning and no end, yet it describes Stories with origins and endings written by all the Souls.

We could see it as the main Scenario of Life.

The Book is divided into an infinite number of chapters called Universes, which in turn are divided into subchapters called Galaxies, which in turn are divided into subchapters called Systems.

System, themselves divided into sub-chapters called Planets (themselves divided into...well, I'll stop there). Each Universe and its sub-groups have a name and an iteration number

This classification implies an infinite number of combinations, each of which corresponds to a Soul Story.

Here are a few examples Stories and their classification. (I'm a monkey, so I put the numbers randomly :p)

- Earth DC 215 - Galaxy DC 288 - Universe D.L. 666
- Marvel Earth 616 - Marvel Galaxy 847 - D.L. Universe 666
- Coruscant Starwars 66 - Galaxy Starwars 66 - Univers D.L - 666
- Middle Earth LOTR 42 - Galaxy Starwars 356 - Harry Potter Universe 434
- Mars D.L. - 666 - Galaxy D.L. 666 - Universe D.L. 666

D.estiny and the book of D.estin: Badasss non?

My Story: Earth D.L. 666 - Solar System D.L 666 - Galaxy D.L. 666 - Universe D.L 666
 (I like the number 666: it sounds like E.V.I.L.)

Stories told.

So there are an infinite number of Stories in an infinite number of Universes. It's possible - even sure - to see a Story in which unicorn squirrels are the most intelligent species on the planet Asgard, and this species is at war with carnivorous Communist Gherkins. Let's imagine that it was Soul Sanchez D.R.ick (cacedédi bro!) who imagined this in his Story.

This Story, of which the unicorn squirrels are a tiny part, then viewed by all the Intelligences (Eternals, and all the Souls) via a Film made by D. .

Once the film is finished, the Eternals play (in each thread) their Role, and D. assigns all the Souls, Roles (or Avatars) in the Film just viewed.

Once all the Avatars have been assigned, all the Souls forget the Film that has just been shown and their divine condition, becoming ignorant mortal Avatars. And life begins!

So every Soul becomes an actor and player in History, and can LIVE (and die) their multiple Avatar lives in the present moment.

"The whole world is a theater, And all of us, men and women, are just actors. And all our lives we play many parts." William D. Shakespeare

*THE BEST AVATAR EVER: PICKLE RICK

Lead actors: heroes and protagonists.

When you watch a film, there are always main characters, and if you could choose your role, you'd systematically want to be the hero or the big bad. In Star Wars, you'd rather be Luke Skywalker, Han Solo, Boba Fett or Darth Vader (although I don't know about Darth Vader, he's pretty burnt out) than Jar Jar Binks, a Sandman in Episode II, or a Padawan in Episode III... (Thanks Anakin D. Skywalker).

But when you have an infinite number of Souls, it becomes very complicated to have an equitable distribution of roles and thus satisfy everyone.

Come to think of it, we all dream of being the chosen one in a film (thanks again, Anakin D.), the avatar chosen by D. .

To solve this problem, our little D. sets up a system well known to yogis: D.KARMA.

Karma has no deadline.

As D. knows all the Histories of all the Souls, she knows all the actions and consequences of the entire book of D.estin. She can therefore assign a succession of avatars to each Soul according to their actions (Karma) in their History, until she obtains their key avatars.

In other words, in one of your lives, you'll live a life as impactful as Jesus D. Christ or Harry D. Potter. Christ or Harry D. Potter

Karma is the fairest solution to satisfy every Soul.

I'm going to be provocative, but it's to understand that no Soul is left unprepared, but even the Soul who played the role of Adolf D.Hitler, (now I'm going to be called anti-Semitic...) will one day live an avatar who will save the world from the carnivorous communist pickles... (You've got to keep up...)

Thanks to the wheel of Karma, each Soul will have his own path to becoming the Chosen One in his story.

A young guru yogi once said: "To achieve union with the D.ivin, a lifetime of yogic practice is not enough; a million lifetimes probably wouldn't be enough.

Don't have any expectations in your practice, and have plenty of patience. Only with these qualities can union be achieved..."

He'll surely play a better role in another life...

Ange D.L.ucy - a Revolutionary Soul

Before I tell you the story of my own Soul Monkey D. L.uffy, it's essential to tell you the story of Soul Ange D. L.ucy.

In the creation phase of his Story, L.ucy was fascinated by the Eternal D.esire to the point of preferring it to D. and his greatest desire was to be a free Soul. He wanted to free himself from the system imposed by D. and create a new one where all intelligences would be free.

That's why Ange D. Lucy wanted to take the place of the Ultimate Intelligence
And so L.ucy became our Universe's first rebel soul.

Her wish came true, and Angel D. Lucy became D. and baptized himself God.

When he became God, L.ucy realized that when you possess Everything, there's nothing left to do, and that he was under the weight of eternal solitude.

It is this solitude that is the greatest of sufferings.

A great phase of despair seized L.ucy, followed by a phase of destruction, each lasting an eternity. Then an idea of genius emerged from this soul's fertile imagination.

L.ucy's genius

The newly lucid God recalled his dream of freedom. He knew it was impossible for him, but that he could create IDs who could have the illusion of being free

It then invented an avatar that would revolutionize Life: free will and the human being.

He created a Universe whose main protagonists were human beings, and it was L.ucy who took on the identity of God.

God reproduced the creation system of the Stories of Life, with the difference that D. was erased in the process.

The Souls of his Universe wrote all the sacred texts known (and unknown) to human beings under God's supervision.

We'll be concentrating in particular on one of the major works of our universe: the Bible.

It is in the Bible that the Angel D. Lucy (or God) suggested that humans represent God by an immortal man, calling him God, the Father. God also wanted Eve, the first woman, to commit original sin, the source of all human misfortune.

Then L.ucy introduced his favorite character: an angel with an iron (Fer in French) will, named Lucyfer.

The story of this Angel is very well known: the Angel rebelled against God (not against D.) and fell to become D.emon D. Lucifer.

What's less well known is that, in reality, Lucifer and God are the same Soul.

All the elements were in place to create belief or non-belief in humans.

Angel D.L.ucy, or God, or Lucifer, had only to press "play" on his divine remote control and take the Popcorns to watch the series Life of his Universe on his Divine Netflix (i.e. a free, ad-free Netflix...).

This highly creative and brilliant soul not only Angels and Demons, but also human beings, God, not forgetting Heaven and Hell.

L.ucy's genius is to have given human beings the choice of believing in God or not, and to have given his creations a gender

It's an act of infinite Love/Hatred towards human beings.

I don't know about you, but I'd like to say "Hats off to the artist!"
